

Webinars for Activity Professionals and Recreation Therapists

Introduction

Re-Creative Resources Inc. offers education via the web. Webinars are a great way to learn and gain continuing education credits, while being able to interact with the instructor and other attendees. Many times and dates are scheduled to accommodate your busy schedule.

Who Should Attend

These webinars are designed for Activity Professionals and Recreation Therapists but many other health care professionals would benefit as well such as Creative Arts Therapists, Social Workers, Nurses, CNA's, or other health-care workers.

Webinar-based In-Services

Re-Creative Resources Inc. will also provide webinar-based in-services to help you train your staff. You may contact Kim Grandal to schedule a private in-service for you and your department. Group discount rates are available.

How the Webinar Works

The webinar attendee has two audio options.

- 1) Simply call the phone number provided and you will be able to hear the instructor. Please note: the cost of the phone call will be charged to your phone bill by your telephone company. OR
- 2) The attendee can hear the instructor if he/she has a sound card on their computer and has speakers attached to the computer. Basically, if you can hear music on your computer, you will be able to hear the instructor. If the attendee wishes to be able to speak, he/she will need to have a microphone connected to the computer as well. For those who chose this option for audio, but do not have a microphone, the attendee can still communicate via the chat room. The program is fully interactive via chat rooms and telephone conversation. Attendees are asked to keep their phones/microphones muted during the presentation to reduce noise; however, the phone line will remain open for 15 minutes after the presentation to allow for any additional questions.

In addition, the instructor's PowerPoint presentation is viewable on the attendee's computer via the internet.
